The public are promised a rare treat Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, when "Mark Tonin" and George W. Cable will appear together at the Congregational church and give readings from their own works. Mark Twain is to-day the most popular author and humorist in the United States. To hear his own fun and wit and pathos coming from his own fun and wit and pathos coming from his own fun will be enjoyment of the highest character. Mr. George W. Cable appeared least-sesson in this city, and by his charming characterizations of Creole life fairly captivated all who heard nim. The verdict of the public wherever he has been is that as a delineator of his own orations Mr. Cable surpasses Dickens. His career in the field of iterature has been one of the most remarkable and brilliant, and his success upon the platform has been equally great. Ladies' Leggin; s, all colors, 48c.

Capt. Bodine's Faneral.

The funeral of the late Capt. Hiram D. Bc-dine, who shot hitmed Tuesday at his desk in the postoffice department, took place yesterday at 2 p. m. from his late residence, No. 11 Grant Place. It had been intended that the Maschie order would take charge of the funeral, but this was changed in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Bodine, who desired that its display be made by reason of the sad circumstances of her humband's death. The casket, which was cloth covered and with uncovered glass top, rested in the front parlor, having on it a large floral cross sent by his office companions. The services were conducted by fley, M. A. Turner, of McKendree Methodist church. The palibearers were Cols. E. C. Ford and D. A. Grosvenor, representing the Ohio association; E. C. Elmer, from the Masonic chapter to which the deceased belonged here, and Messrs. W. D. Burbridge, M. C. Edson, and J. B. Bishop, from the sixth auditor's office, in which deceased was a clerk. The funeral was very largely attended, Commissioner Butterworth and very many other Ohioans being present. Mrs. Bodine was so much prostrated that she was unable to be present in the parior during the service, and had almost to be carried to the carriage to attend the remains to Congressional eventory, where the interment took place.
